The Fortress

Fort Hunt High School

Fairfax County,

Virginia

Volume I, 1963-1964

Introduction

This first edition of The Fortress has been published for the benefit of the school and its community. In it we have tried to capture the atmosphere of the school—its happy moments, its frustrations, and its rewards. Instead of using words to show the life of the school, we let pictures speak. The picture has not been glorified. Instead this picture of Fort Hunt shows 1963-64 as we lived it day by day. In hopes that it will bring to mind many pleasant memories we, The Fortress Staff, present this yearbook to you.

There were moments for ... building ...

and organizing.

There were many moments for ... group instruction ...

individual instruction ...

and a lot of hard studying.

There were moments ... to pay money ...

to attend social functions ...

and to be just plain funny.

There were moments ... to hurry ...

to wait ...

and wait . and wait .. and wait ... and wait.

There were moments ... to sing ...

to play ...

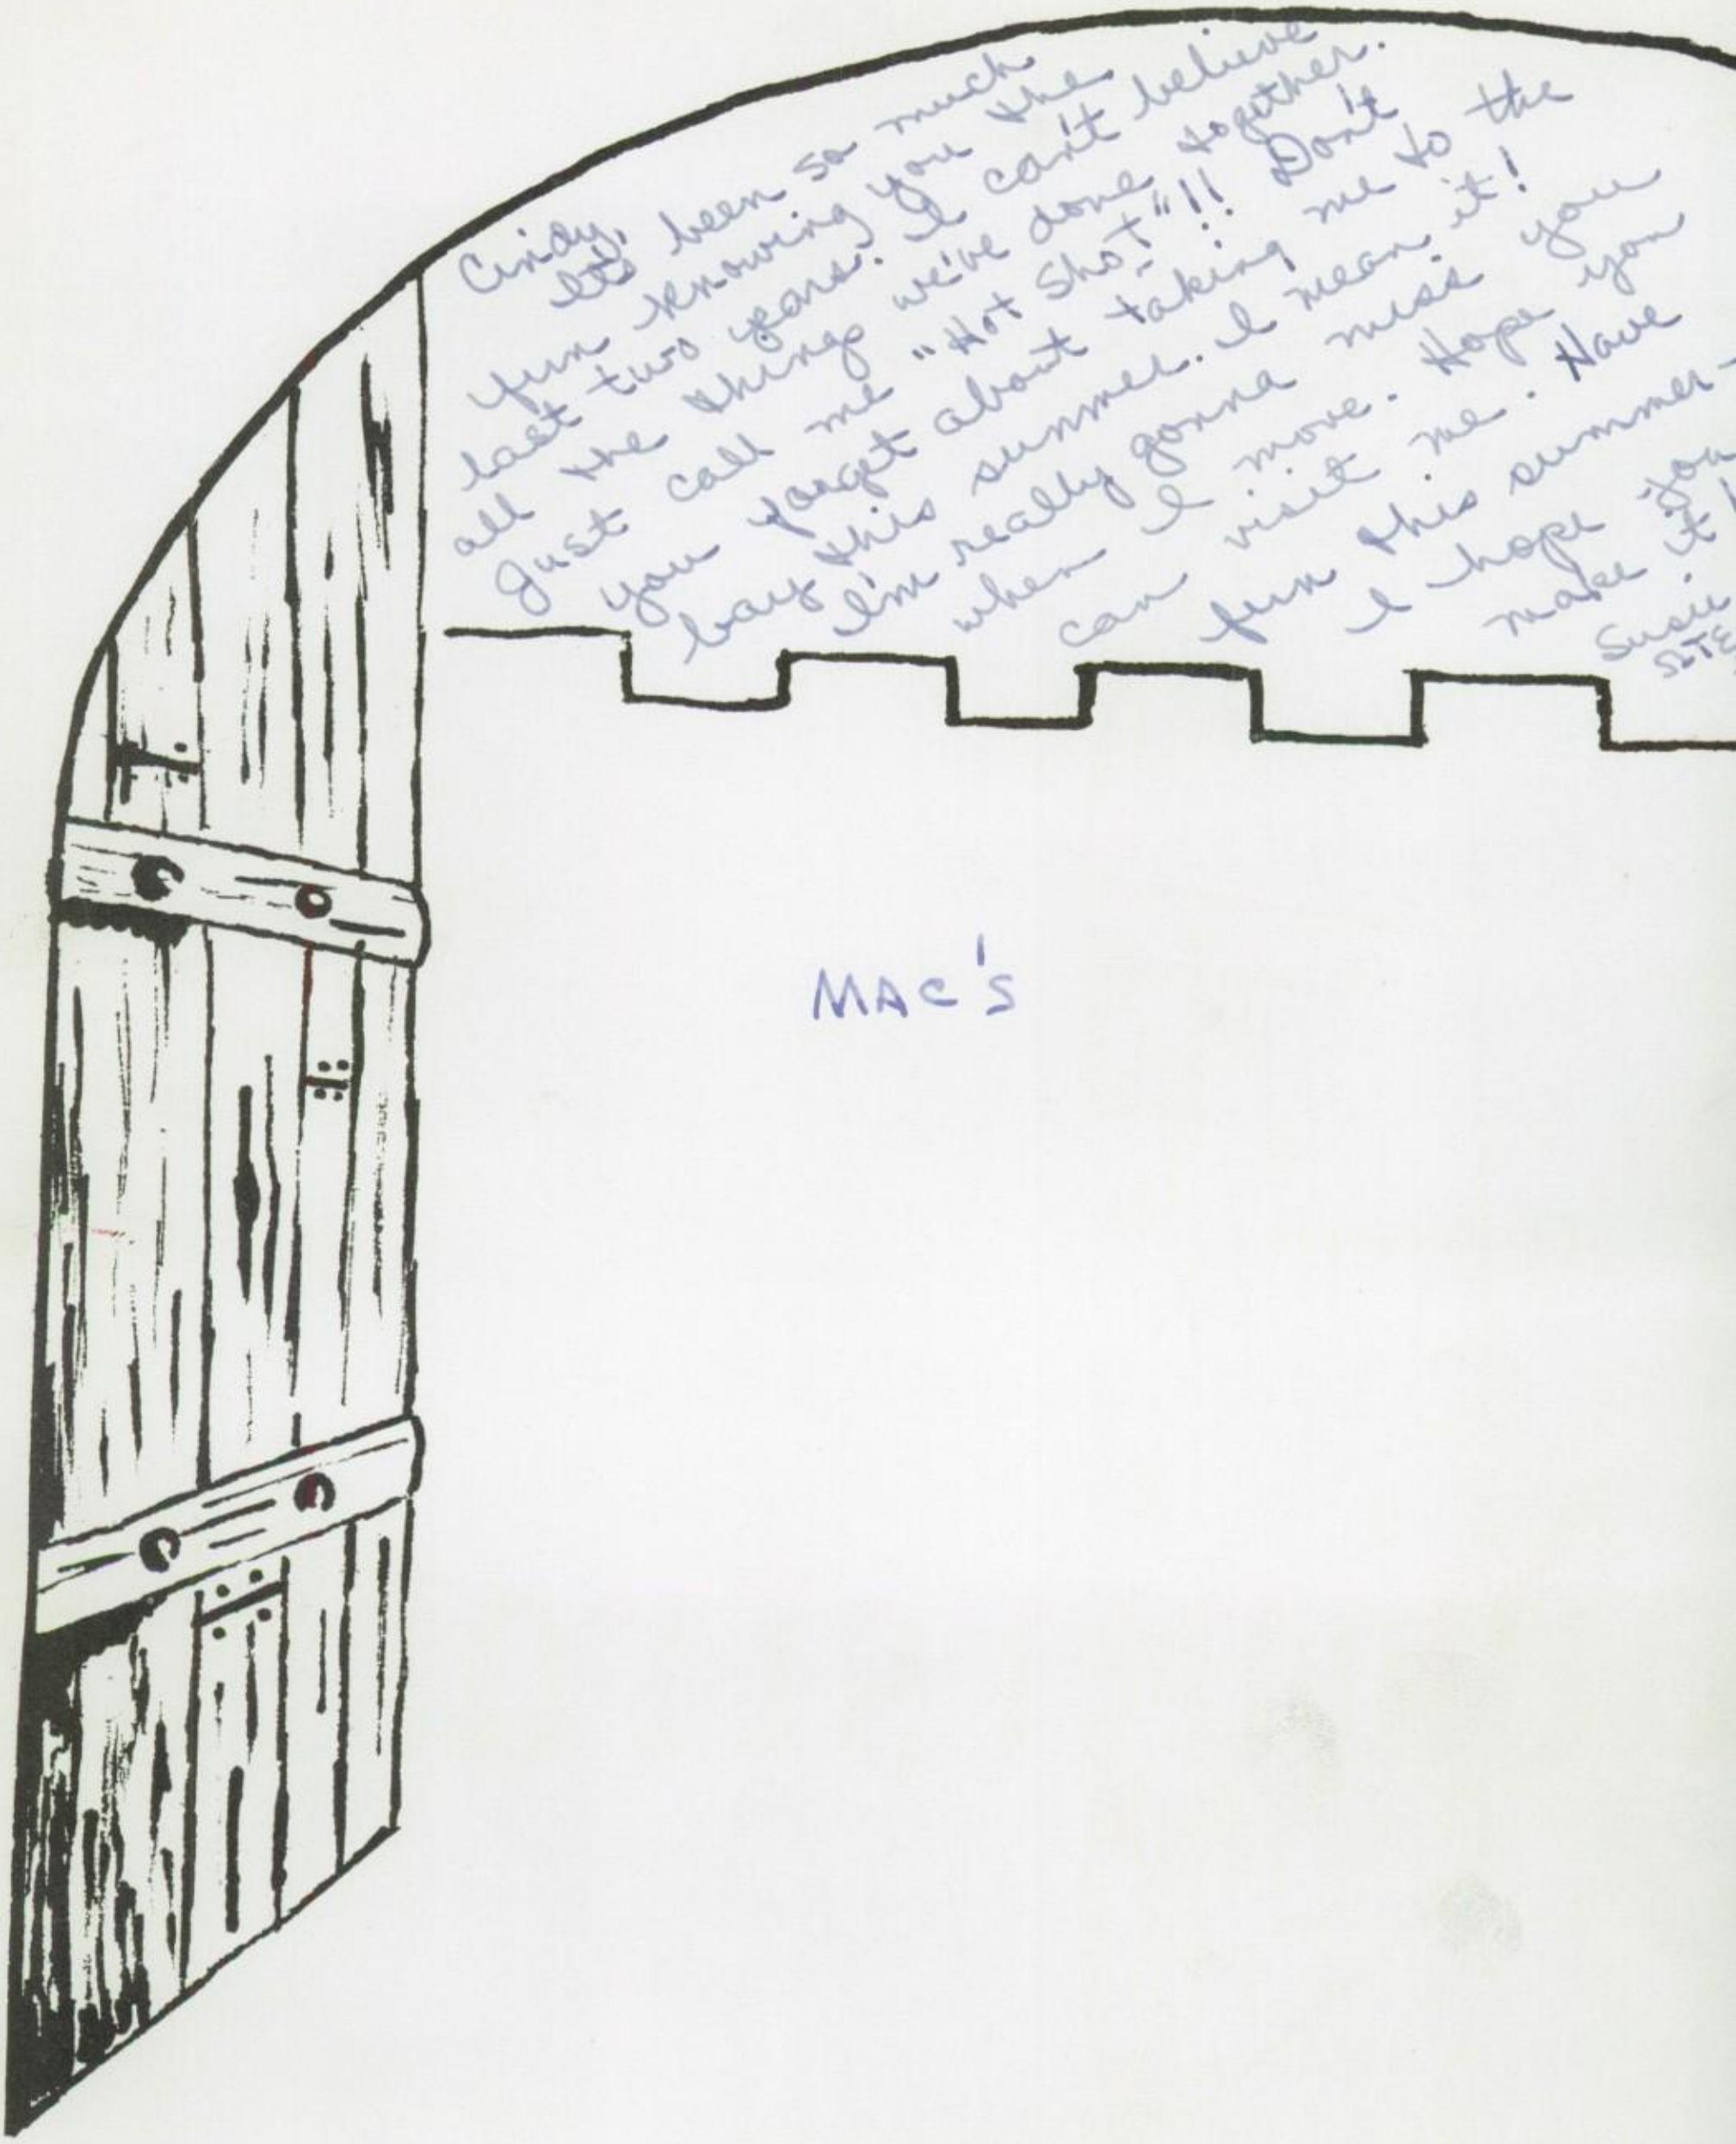
to be cheered ...

and to be just plain tired.



Cindy, been so much fun knowing you the last two years. I can't believe all the things we've done together. Just call me "Hot Shot"!! Don't forget about taking me to the bars this summer. I mean it! I'm really gonna miss you when I move. Hope you can visit me. Have fun this summer. I hope you make it
MAC'S

Cynthia - (Cynthia, Brandy, etc.)

It's been quite an experience knowing you - to say the least. Gad, what a place to meet - Mac's! You're quite a unique person, that's probably why all the times we've been together, we've had such good times. I could go ahead and name all the wild things that has happened this last past year, but they don't still seem possible. Cynthia, I wish you the very fairy best always. Remember good ole' Georgetown with the 89' and the open fraternity house, and my dear brother. Finish your book and I hope we have both a wonderful summer. Seems like its started out very well so far - the finding Mike and you Back Castle climbing in the window and all the cab rides with Jill - suitcases in the early hours of the morning at our second home - I hope it never ends -

Love
Melany

THE CLASS OF '65

Karen Kirk, Treasurer; Jeff Schafer, Vice President; Ives Murray, President; Patricia Stehling, Secretary.

As the 1963-64 school year opened, the Juniors were faced with the many responsibilities of a new school. We have been, in effect, two classes, Juniors in grade and Seniors in responsibility. Choosing class leaders was a difficult task; however, we took it in stride. We ordered class rings, took college boards, and planned for a successful prom, setting many firsts for the classes to follow. May we always remember our past endeavors with pride and look forward to our future—beyond graduation 1965.

The Class of '66 began its first year at Fort Hunt High School with 313 students in its ranks. With the election of officers and a Sophomore Council in November, we started planning a year full of activities. Our first activity was to obtain funds for the treasury through a paper drive; decal sales followed to supplement our income. This initial money was used to finance our other activities. Believing that an active year is beneficial to establishing a class spirit, we have undertaken a full program of activities. We hope that our participating fully will insure a better rising Junior Class.

THE CLASS OF '67

Virginia McComas, Secretary; Steven Weissman, President; Brian Porter, treasurer; Mark Palmer, Vice President.

The Fort Hunt High School Graduating Class of 1967 has embarked on a "do-something" high school career. So far, we have actively participated in many school projects, including: the Magazine Campaign—in which we are not only led in total subscriptions, but the two homerooms leading in sales were also from the Freshman Class; the Intramural Activities—largest number of participants in the initial Intramural Program at Fort Hunt High School; the Student Government—through our 9th Grade Council, we have contributed to the development of the total school program at Fort Hunt.

Despite problems of construction and incomplete facilities, our Class has had two successful group activities this year: the Ninth Grade Superstition Dance on Friday, March 13, 1964, and the Class Picnic.

With an eye to the future and with the experience of past performance, the Graduating Class of 1967 should certainly far surpass the expectations of the present upper-classmen. Anticipating many future honors for our Class and fellow students, we are earnestly looking forward to being the first Graduating Class to have completed all four years of our high school program at Fort Hunt. With the assistance of our very patient Class Sponsor, Mrs. Jane Hall, we feel confident that we shall reach our objectives.

The Provisional Student Government (PSG) was the product of the summer work of a Student Steering Committee—24 elected representatives of the three classes that were to enter Fort Hunt in September. The Steering Committee established executive committees headed by its members but made up of interested students, including a Constitutional Committee which wrote the Provisional Constitution for the Fort Hunt Student Body. The Provisional Constitution included the Steering Committee as a part of the PSG under the name of the Student Council, the executive body. The Steering Committee's officers became the officers of the PSG and its committees continued to function.

The PSG was under the executive direction of its officers, Chairman, Vice-Chairman for each Class, Secretary, and Treasurer, and of its committees: Activity, Arts and Bulletin Boards, Constitutional, Building and Grounds, Finance, Hospitality, Publications, and Public Relations. The legislative and more largely representative council was the Student General Assembly, to which each homeroom sent a delegation having one vote. The PSG also established an Activities Council for the clubs' representation and an Academic Council for co-ordination of phases of our academic life. The Administration established a Cafeteria Council made up of officers from the PSG and the classes. The PSG functioned until it had established the enduring student body organization—the Fort Hunt Student Co-operative Association.

Among the student government-sponsored activities this year were the sale of victory tags for football games, a successful magazine campaign, several bake sales and sock hops, and a March of Dimes Drive. Plans for the future include participation in conventions and leadership conferences throughout the state.

Fort Hunt benefited from the establishment of a provisional student government for its student body. From the efforts and goals, the mistakes and successes of the first year, a foundation was laid for a strong and rewarding SCA. The student life during most of 1963-1964 may not have been entirely unified, may not have been extremely active, but the elements of unity and action were realized as the Fort Hunt students became the Fort Hunt Student Body, able to call itself a Student Co-operative.

Activity Council

The chief function of the Activity Council has been the co-ordination of the various clubs of the co-curricular program. Once a month the Activity Council met with representatives from each club to direct the efforts of the organizations toward a mutual goal. An essential part of the plans of the Activity Council this year was the chartering of the clubs. The goal was finalized with an impressive ceremony giving the rights of corporation within Fort Hunt High School to the clubs. Other plans for school-wide activities were made and coordinated at the meetings.

Academic Council

J. Weissman, M. Gunderson, S. Einbinder, Secretary; E. Wright, Mr. Connolly, Sponsor

The Academic Council was organized to further promote academic studies at Fort Hunt High School. It is an organized student tutoring program made up of representatives from each of the honor societies. The Council aids those students having trouble learning and provides a teaching experience for advanced students. The Academic Council is also planning seminar programs for students interested in certain subject areas.

The Fortress

Wishing to produce a record of the colorful activities of Fort Hunt's busy and exciting first year, the staff of the fortress set about to publish Fort Hunt's first yearbook under the guidance of Miss Ratzsch and Mr. Robertson.

The business committee began by collecting the money necessary to finance this undertaking. During the sports seasons, the photographers were busy taking action shots of the various games. Then the class committee went into action when the time came for class and faculty pictures to be sorted. As clubs were formed, the clubs and organizations staff was kept occupied writing articles about each group's activities. Bit by bit, the sections were completed. It was then the job of the layout committee to assemble the sections, and gradually the first edition of the fortress emerged in its present form.

The Front Line

The Front Line staff worked hard this year to fulfill its purpose by fostering accurate and modern writing and reporting, by heightening scholarship and good sportsmanship, by communicating directly with all student activities, and by supplying a forum for student opinions and ideas. Foremost, was the desire to follow the principles of good journalism. Although the staff was handicapped by the lack of school time for newspaper work, many successful editions were published. Staff members participated in the annual Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention in March at Columbia University in New York City and in the Southern Interscholastic Press Association's April convention at Washington and Lee University. Many long hours of hard work were spent in an attempt to produce a newspaper of which the entire student body could be proud.

The Turret

Let's try it again.

The Turret, the art-literary magazine, is published twice a year to provide an outlet for and encourage creative writing and art among our students.

The staff is chosen by the sponsor from applications made at the end of the school year. Students are placed on either the art or literary staffs according to their interests, experience, and talents.

The staff selects from articles submitted by students those which are most indicative of the interests of the general student body with the purpose of making the magazine a cross-section of the literary and artistic talent of our school.

Keyette Club

Keyette members had a very successful season of activities during this, their first year of existence. Major events, recorded in the club's history, included the composition of by-laws, acceptance by Keyette National, and participation in the Keyette National Convention early in April. Members assisted the Key Club with their fall woodchopping project by the contribution of much needed moral support. Delicate Christmas cards were made and presented to all faculty members by the Keyette Club. In celebration of St. Valentine's Day, club members traveled to St. Elizabeth's Hospital to present a variety show. Late in March, Easter lilies were sold by club members in nearby shopping centers. Supplemented by several social functions, the year proved to be both busy and rewarding as we fulfilled our purpose of serving the school and community.

Key Club

"Responsibility to community, school, and self in accordance with our motto 'We Build'" is the basic goal of the Key Club. The members who are quite active in all areas of school life, show unbounded ability and great enthusiasm—two factors beneficial to the school, community and the individual member.

The Fort Hunt Chapter became affiliated with Key Club International in the fall of '63 under the direction of Mr. George Lyons, sponsor. To raise funds, the members cut firewood and sold it throughout the community. With their sponsoring unit, the Mount Vernon Kiwanis Club, they sold Christmas trees. They donated the Christmas tree to the school and along with the Keyettes took part in a variety show at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Dale Oliver was elected Secretary-Editor of Division 10 of Key Club. In March the members attended the District Convention in Richmond, Virginia.

The Henry J. Hunt Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized by transfer members of the National Honor Society and National Junior Honor Society under the guidance of Mrs. Watkins. It quickly integrated its proposed programs into the academic life of Fort Hunt by working with the SCA Academic Council, planning for honor and tutoring programs and for a scholarship plan, and enlarging its membership.

Membership is based upon scholarship, service, leadership, and character—as determined by what teachers say about an applicant, by what the applicant's records reveal, and by what he tells about himself. While sophomores are eligible for provisional membership, juniors and seniors are active members. The Mount Vernon Senior Honor Society officially installed our chapter on February 18, 1964, as the group was enlarged to 39 members.

The goals of the Honor Society include the support of the standards for membership, of honors and seminar programs, and of high goals in academic life.

French Honor Society

Excellence in the pursuit of knowledge of the French people and their language is the basic goal of La Societe Honoraire de Francais. The Societe is characterized by the active interest in the French language as generated by its members.

Upon receiving a charter from La Societe Honoraire de Francais, Mmes. Nelson and South developed the idea of such a societe in their classes. After careful review of past records in both French and all other subjects, selection was made of the charter members of the Societe Honoraire de Francais of Fort Hunt High School. These students were inducted in an impressive ceremony conducted by the sponsors, Mmes. Nelson and South. It was at this ceremony that the members came to realize the responsibility which they accepted by becoming members. In essence they would be ambassadors of France to the United States.

Future projects of the Societe Honoraire de Francais include the viewing of French films, discussion in French with people from France, the attendance of the Societe at speeches given at the French Embassy, and an attempt to broaden knowledge of France in a seminar-type program.

Generally, the Societe Honoraire de Francais is a broadening of the horizons of its members in the French language.

German Honor Society

The small core of present German honor students are laying the foundation for next year's activities. Under the leadership of Mrs. McKenna, the club will be a society of honor students who will study German culture to formulate programs to teach other German students about German life.

The German Club will be initiated next year and will be open to any student studying German. Its purpose will be to help students understand German culture.

Spanish Honor Society

The Miguel de Unamuno Chapter unofficially came into being with the selection of fifteen outstanding Spanish students. These students not only had to have an above-average level of achievement in Spanish, but they had to have a satisfactory average in all other subjects. Because of a lack of previously inducted members, the new initiates took part in the planning of the March inductions and other activities. With the help of its sponsors, Miss Cacciapaglia and Miss Tucker, the Spanish Honor Society hopes to provide recognition for outstanding achievement by students studying Spanish and to promote Hispanic studies.

National Thespians Society

V. Howells, Treasurer; J. Weissman, Vice President; K. Twomey, President; J. Bressler, Scribe

Devoted to the advancement of dramatic arts in secondary schools, the Fort Hunt branch of the National Thespian Society received a charter and began to lay the groundwork for progress at Fort Hunt. Membership is awarded for meritorious achievement in the field of drama.

Although the basic activities of the Thespians has been the establishment of troupe foundation, the troupe has worked in conjunction with the Drama Department to produce a set of one-act plays.

"The Crucible"

Debate Club

Mr. Cohen, Sponsor; L. Young, Secretary; H. McComas, President; T. Hess, Vice President; G. Schummers, Treasurer

Meeting after school between September and February, the Fort Hunt Debate Club prepared for the annual tournament under the guidance of Mr. Bert Cohen, sponsor. The club was accepted into the Northern Virginia Debate League and was placed on the District schedule with the other schools. The national topic for 1964 was, "Resolved: Social Security benefits be extended to include complete medical care."

Preparation started with extemporaneous speeches about topical subjects and exhibition debates by the more experienced members. Drills were conducted on basic procedure and strategy, and the members learned the art of cross-examination through interrogation practice. At the same time, individual and group research was done on "Medicare." As the season approached, a delegation of eight debaters attended the George Washington University Conference. Fort Hunt participated in scrimmage debates with five Fairfax and Arlington schools. Shortly before the first match, fourteen Fort Hunt patrons qualified as judges. During February and March, Fort Hunt's Varsity and Junior Varsity debated at Edison High, in the Debate Tournament held there.

The Chess Club was formed this year with the idea of improving each member's playing technique and also to determine the better players. Non-players were encouraged to join the club to learn how to play. Plans for next year include tournaments between schools.

Folk Music Society

Even though a good hootenanny is the main product of the Folk Music Society, this organization affords other opportunities to the student body. Besides spreading folk music throughout the school, the members are learning new and various types of folk music, how to develop a definite style technique, and they are increasing their repertoire.

Plans for the year included a Junior Day Hootenanny as well as other Hootenannies. Clinics in development of instrument playing as well as song appreciation are offered to develop scope.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club was formed this year by students who are interested in foreign affairs and current issues.

In February Col. Ralph Vandervort, Special Advisor to the Secretary of Defense, spoke of the influence of Congress on foreign policy. Plans also called for more speakers to talk on other topics of interest with the aid of the language department. The members also hoped to initiate International Week to promote student interest in foreign countries.

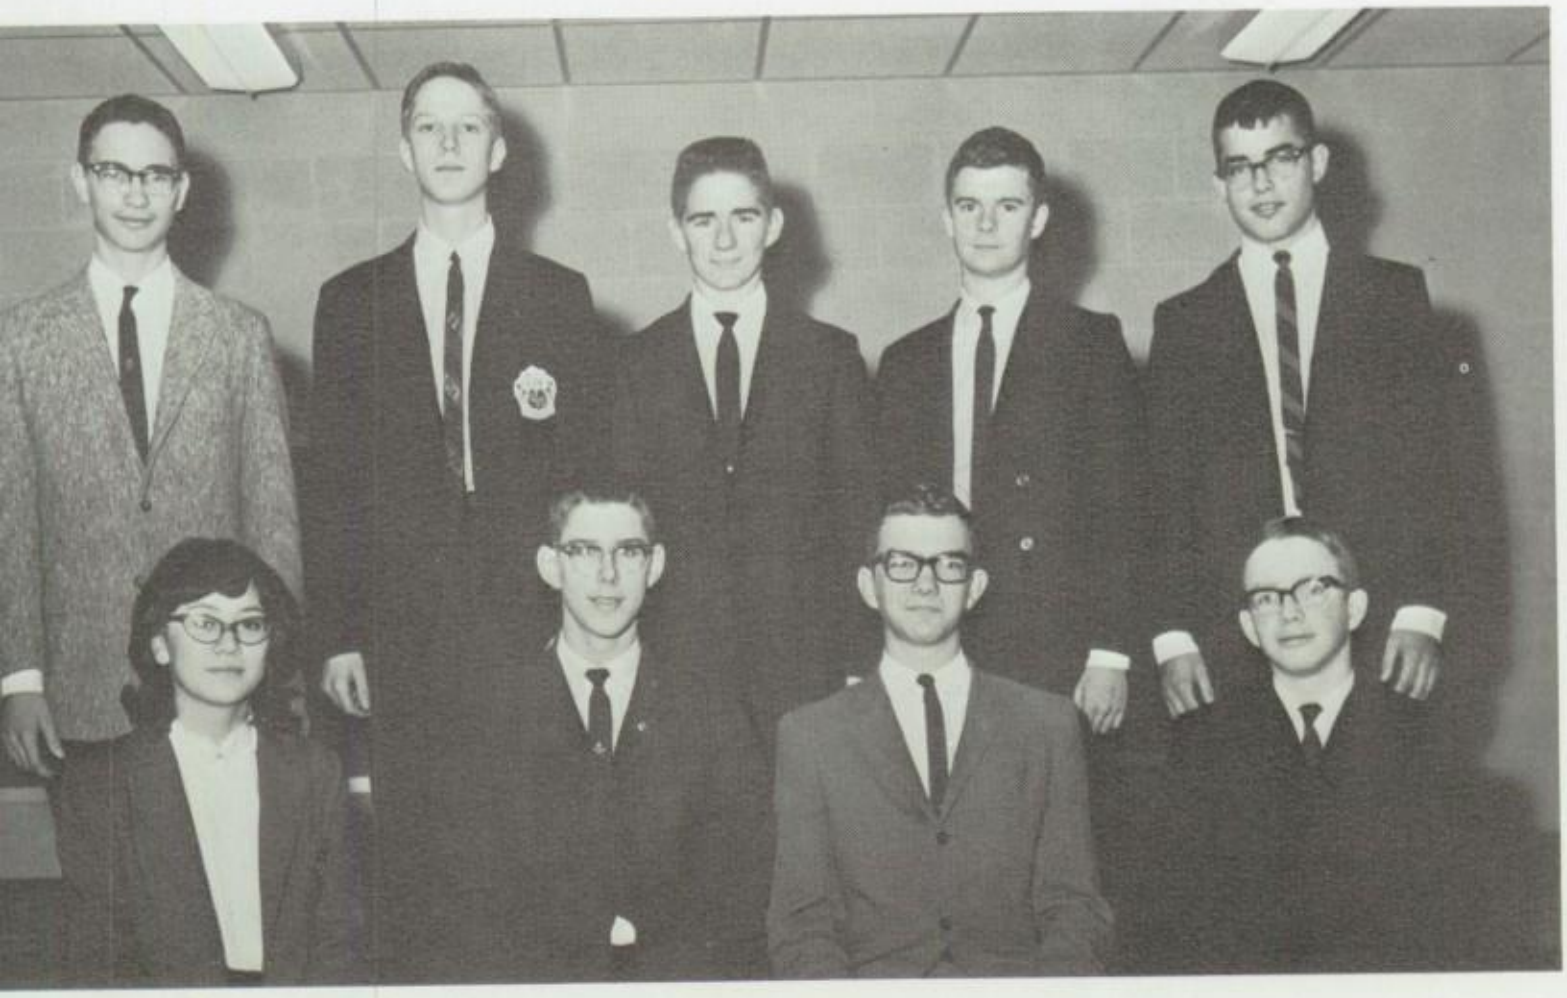
Science Club



Row 1: A. Hepburn, A. Holland, President; C. Clifford, Secretary-Treasurer; R. Brown; Row 2: C. Seab, D. Green, W. Miller, G. Butler, J. Resch

The Science Club's main objective is to stimulate thought, research, and experimentation in the fields of science. With Mr. Bishopp as the sponsor, they have had access to the chemistry lab and different types of materials. The club's activities during the year included a talk by Dr. Harvalick on "Scientific Oddities," a field trip to see the 40 national winners of the Science Talent Search and several "Star Nights" to observe different items in the sky.

Pep Club

C. Hofler, President; Mrs. Bowden, Sponsor; K. Smoke, Vice President

In the fall a committee of five was named to take charge of the immediate duties necessary for the establishment of this organization. At a later meeting officers were elected, and they promptly began to formulate the processes of developing a strong Pep Club.

Due to a late start in most extra-curricular activities, the Pep Club was somewhat restricted this year in carrying out all of its plans. Nevertheless, many students worked diligently to provide decorations and "victory letters" for the football games and to sponsor "victory weeks." The club made and sold victory tags, provided stuffed effigies for pep rallies, and in general helped to instill school spirit which is urgently needed in a new high school. The Pep Club also had some bake sales with a different highlight - selling cakes representative of specific holidays. The biggest project of the Pep Club this year was the spring production of our Teacher-Student Talent Show.

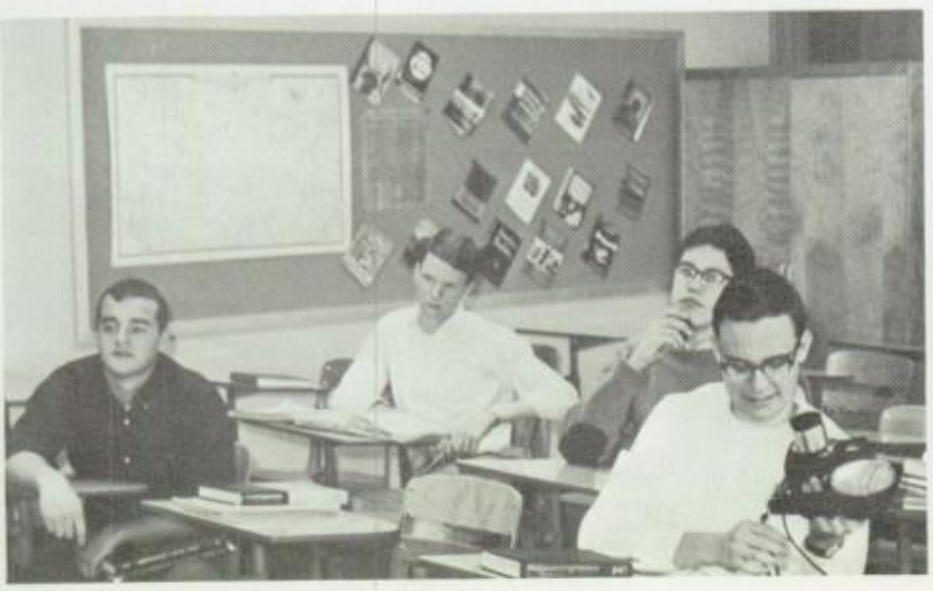
The primary purpose of the Photo Club is to promote a more extensive interest in photography among its members and other students of the school. The club's secondary aim is to raise funds from various projects to equip the darkroom of FHHS.

The Photo Club has had entertaining slide shows by various members of the organization, trying to pick up pointers on taking good pictures. Other club activities included sponsoring a Photo Contest, taking pictures at the various school dances and sponsoring entertaining movies for the whole school concerning the various techniques of photography. Below: Mr. Hensley gives the club some pointers on taking pictures.



Rocket Club

Scientifically minded students compose the Rocket Club of Fort Hunt. By experimenting with fuels and working on electronic systems, the members plan to actually launch a rocket in the spring of 1964. Also slated for the future is the launching of a camera on a two-stage rocket. Bon voyage!

Rifle Club

This year the Rifle Club has organized itself into a functioning body composed of twenty members under the guidance of Mr. Macdonald. Three officers were elected and a formal constitution was written. The members acquired a six-point range and adequate insurance to permit them to fire there weekly. The club is a member club of the National Rifle Association. Now that the organization is settled, our sharpshooters will be on the prowl for competition from rivaling clubs. The Rifle Club eagerly awaits these encounters in anticipation of establishing a Fort Hunt tradition of expert marksmanship.

Riding Club

Hoofprints are the mark of the Riding Club whose main objective is to become a firmly established part of Fort Hunt. The club offers opportunities not only to those experienced riders but also to anyone interested in horses and horsemanship. In the future the club hopes to sponsor shows and classes, and they would like to form an equestrian unit for parades.

Future Homemakers of America

F.H.A. "Pinning Ceremony"

The "Donut Shop" is the familiar early-morning treat sponsored by the Future Homemakers Club. Knowing that their main purpose is to emphasize the importance of homemaking skills, they are learning to knit, sew, and cook. The members have sold cookbooks, had bake sales, and plan to have a demonstrator visit the club to help them with hairstyling. A Mother-Daughter Banquet in May was the climax of the year's activities. At that time, officers were installed for the next year.

Those students interested in nursing as a career have banded together to form a club that helps them gain the experience they will need as nurses. By working in service projects, the members are able to observe nursing as a career. Most of the girls are in the Nurses' Aid program at local hospitals.

Plans for the year included taking trips to Junior Village to help with the infants once or twice a month, taking a home nursing course, and giving a tea to gain affiliation with other nurses' organizations in the area.

Future Nurses help in filing and in filling charts.

The Future Teachers of America was formed this year by students who plan to become teachers and who desire to find out more about the various teaching fields offered in the United States today.

The members have had bake sales to raise money, and they would like to visit N.E.A. in Washington, D.C., where they would learn about the various aspects of the teaching profession. The members also hope to hear speakers discuss education, and they would like to visit an elementary class.

Math Club

This year the Math Club pursued its interests with a series of lectures which were given by the differnt members on topics such as the abacus of the Chinese, the contribution of the Hindus to algebra, and the number system of the Mayan Indians.

Club members attended the exhibition of the projects of the forty winners of the Westinghouse Science Talent Search; the club also toured the I. B. M. Corporation in Arlington, Virginia.

Band

This year, the Fort Hunt High School Symphonic Band has accomplished much in the way of music and school support. The band provided a foundation for school spirit during the football games and pep rallies.

Fall gave way to winter and found the band in concert season. Most of this time was spent in preparation for the Northern Virginia Band Festival, held this year at Hammond High School. It is somewhat a culmination of the musical year. All high schools in Northern Virginia present compositions for a rating. The Fort Hunt Band received an excellent rating on its entries.

One of our goals this year has been to obtain uniforms. As money is necessary to attain this end, we have initiated several money making projects. One of these was a highly successful candy selling drive.

Under the most capable direction of Mr. Clair C. Christy, the group of students who first formed the band has been transformed into a well-trained musical addition to Fort Hunt High School.

Chamber Choir

The Choral Department of Fort Hunt has had a very rewarding first year. Mr. King, the director and teacher of the Freshmen Chorus, Boys' Chorus, Treble Choir, Chamber Choir and a theory class, has taught his students not only the fundamental techniques of fine craftsmenship, but also the art of music. The first formal appearance of the choruses was at the Christmas Concert; also during Christmas, the choir sang to the public at Belleview Shopping Center. During the winter months, the Chamber Choir sang at The Church of the Covenant in Arlington, and the Boys' Chorus, Treble Choir, and Chamber Choir performed at a student assembly. The Treble Choir and Boys' Choruses combined, sang at Fort Belvoir in the Easter Sunrise Service. Then, three choruses and five soloists participated in the annual choral Festival held at Madison High School. To complete the full calendar, a formal spring concert was given at the end of May in the school auditorium for the public. The year was very successful and they hope next year will be more so.

Varsity Football

Fort Hunt's first varsity football squad hit the line hard this year and ended up with a record to be proud of, scoring 6 wins against 3 losses. Under Coach Berry's leadership, the individual members became a toughened team whose training began last summer in mid-August.

The Federals had a good start by defeating the Lee "B" team, 19-0. Two other triumphs were a 25-7 victory over Mount Vernon and a 6-0 rousing victory over the Groveton Varsity. Everyone considers Fort Hunt's first grid team a success.

Varsity Basketball

With the absence of Senior players to strengthen them, the Varsity Basketball Team seemed to falter in some of its toughest competition. Led in battle by Coach White, the boys showed great spirit and skill but were not able to overcome such teams as the Groveton Varsity or Falls Church Varsity.

Their record is 5-14, but with the return of most of the players next year, the record should be much better.

Baseball

Playing an all-varsity competitive schedule, Fort Hunt's first baseball team held its ground. The team, coached by Mr. Colna, was aided by good pitching and catching as well as having some members with previous playing experience.

The team played its home games at Waynewood Recreation Area. Because it did not have a home diamond, and may not have for several years, the team had to play at a disadvantage.

Track

The Track Team, under the direction of Coach Crawley, was a relatively inexperienced squad this year with only 7 boys who had previous track experience and 38 with none. However, as the season progressed, the team learned more about the sport; and the hopes are that next year's team will get off to a better start with more experienced participants. During this season, the track at Fort Hunt was completed and with it available for practice next year, the future looks good.

A deluge of rain delayed the netmen's first three games; nevertheless, the team opened its season playing Wakefield's 1962-63 Northern District Championship team. Participating in varsity matches were 15 boys, four of whom had had previous experience. The coach, Mr. Pattisall, played the experienced players in the singles matches and the boys further down the ladder in the doubles competition. Over half of the team will be returning for three years, so Fort Hunt should be assured of good tennis teams. Our "Rac-Queteers" held their matches at the Belle Haven Country Club courts.

The chief drive for the first Fort Hunt Girls' Basketball Team was learning and developing basic skills, patterns, and movements on the floor. Junior Varsity Basketball

Miss Duncan, the J.V. coach set the J.V. Basketball squad's goal the same as the varsity in that the individual members would develop skills and techniques this first year. The J.V. team was composed of sophomores and freshmen, some of whom will take varsity slots next year.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Emily Feddersen

Creating school spirit in the student body of a new school was the major task of our first cheerleading squad. Under the direction of Miss Duncan and Miss Woolfolk, the squad worked toward this goal. During football season they had a bonfire at which time they wore the players' jerseys, burned a Major (in effigy, of course!), and danced the Bunny-Hop. The other pep rallies held throughout the year were quite successful, especially the one for the opening of the long-awaited gym. The squad also helped to promote school spirit by promoting a "Victory Week."

Aided greatly by the J.V. and Freshmen cheering squads, the cheerleaders have helped to instill enthusiasm in the student body.

Jumping and full of spirit were Fort Hunt's first J.V. and Freshmen squads of Cheerleaders. In addition to yelling their teams to victories, their activities included helping the Varsity group create school spirit, holding a car-wash, and making posters to advertise games.

Cyndee,

God! With our brains we could turn Suffolk into caos! If it isn't like that already. Remember Sham at the bay? Let's steal him the next time we're there! We could get Bobby and Mouse them ——. Maybe we'll hitch hike to Georgetown this summer many times. + R-B's and Sting rays!! Ocean City this summer. Many top rights and life rafts. Mrs. Hall find her missing hub caps. The Seals.

Next time you see Scooter remind him of the chicken and wire. We can swing out together! (Just kidding!) Key Baby will never be the same. At least Fort Hunt was well [illegible] broken in. Your time is up. You taxi go to Boston waiting. Please take me. I appreciate experiances like that. Look at Mac's. Many nights spent there with "Lion and his fabulous Tourches".

"Don't take the car except to the pool."

Meanwhile at Bells View — traffic jam. you sneak out tonight. I'm sure we will we didn't last night. Friday is our fun no school. "Whose pants are these?" Hollin Hills pool. Wilbert won't have our lovely voices in his chorus next year.

Really, there isn't much for us to write because we're going to have a cool boppin' summer and will have many more things to write in the future years.

Always much love,
Your friend and sinner Pat Baker '65

Cyndee —

I have no idea where to start or what to say. How did all this get started, anyway?! Back in November, the first to be exact. Good ol' Jim Porter and "Rough and Ready!" That deer head, the unbelievable booze we consumed and Thurber for breakfast at the Wigwam!! I guess thats when Georgetown really started swinging for us — and its still going. I'll never forget the Sharidon Park and that D A R (DRUNK ASS RECEPTION) Dance. How about those boys from Florida that we met in Mac's, you know, the ones that believe in free love?! Then back to Long Beach — Pat, Mike, Bob, Steve, me, and you — till you mother caught on. I think thats the day I fell in love — you must be my bridesmaid!!

Now that summer is here at last its time to "swim in the moonlight". You'd better practice getting out that window — I'd hate to go through the sleepwalking, wallbanging, window closing toilet flushing mess we ended up in last time with Joe Burt, Richard and Jerry.

I'm eagerly awaiting Ocean City — Steve and I are moving in — hope you mom won't mind! And don't forget Newport. Folk festival complete with ——?! For Gods sake don't let you mother see this. Be good, but not too good — anyway, have fun!!

Love
Christy

Cindy,
